

Something Missing?

Bring all the pieces together with point-of-sale from RMS.

Point-of-Sale is an essential component for your pharmacy.

Patient care, compliance, security, employee management, and of course, the bottom line.

These are just some of the considerations that today's outpatient pharmacies contend with on a daily basis. And it takes more than one system to fully meet all of these needs. Point-of-sale may be one piece of a much larger technology scheme, but without it, you're leaving a big gap in pharmacy workflows.

RMS offers integrations to over 30 pharmacy management systems, multiple options for credit card acceptance (including validated P2PE solutions), and a full suite of point-of-sale products to help your organization excel at everything from meds-to-beds programs to management behind the scenes. We'll help you bring all the working parts together with the industry's leading pharmacy point-of-sale solution.
