Company Background

Based in Wake Forest, North Carolina, RxMedic® Systems was launched in 2006 to provide leading-edge dispensing technology to pharmacies. Its first product was the forerunner to the current RxMedic ADS robotic dispensing system.

RxMedic is a subsidiary of the J M Smith Corporation, a Spartanburg, SC-based corporation which also owns QS/1, Smith Drug Company, Norgenix Pharmaceuticals, Smith Premier Services and Integral Solutions Group, all of which serve the pharmacy industry.

Product Overview

RxMedic manufactures automated dispensing and counting systems that work with pharmacy management systems to increase productivity and patient safety. RxMedic has a lower initial capital investment and lower lifetime operating costs than other counting and robotic systems. RxMedic also supports its customers with web, video conference, onsite and toll-free customer support. RxMedic serves pharmacies through a nationwide network of offices.

The RxMedic ADS™, Automated Dispensing System (ADS), holds up to 256 oral solid medications. The ADS dispenses the appropriate sized vials, prints and applies labels, dispenses pills, captures vial content images and caps vials in seconds. The large collating area holds 200 prescriptions for longer, hands-free use.

The RxMedic ACS™, Automated Counting System (ACS), is one of the cleanest, safest counting options on the market with separate cells and chutes to prevent cross-contamination. The ACS can automate simultaneous counting of multiple medications and pre-count minimum quantities for seven (7) to 71 drugs in a scalable design. The ACS also digitally captures vial content images.

Features and Benefits

Whether you're looking for the power of robotics or the affordability of an automated pill counter, RxMedic has the perfect time-saving solution for you. Both systems provide retail pharmacy's only photo verification for automated dispensing. Both systems interface with any pharmacy management system and use state-of-the-art technology to help prevent cross-contamination.
