Company Background

Founded in 1909 by pharmacist Al Falkenhainer, Pharmacists Mutual Insurance Company is dedicated to servicing the pharmacy profession, and is the only insurance company in the United States that specializes in serving the insurance and risk management needs of pharmacists. As an A.M. Best A (Excellent) rated property and casualty insurance provider, the company writes over 90,000 policies for nearly 50,000 customers in 49 states.

Pharmacists Mutual prides itself on being a single source of insurance protection and providing personal service with an expanding portfolio of products and services. Pharmacists Mutual's headquarters is located in Algona, Iowa, a rural community of 6,500 in a diverse agricultural area. The company employs nearly 300 people comprised of teachers, nurses, lawyers, accountants, pharmacy technicians, pharmacists, and a medical doctor. Many are licensed insurance representatives and/or have earned distinctive insurance designations. The Board of Directors of Pharmacists Mutual are practicing pharmacists and are instrumental in developing company goals and policies.

Committed to the pharmacy profession, Pharmacists Mutual supports numerous pharmacy initiatives including scholarships to student pharmacists, sponsorship of the Distinguished Young Pharmacist Award nationwide, lectures on pharmacy law, providing continuing education speakers at pharmacy conventions, risk management assistance, legislative support of pharmacy bills, and financial support through Pharmacy Marketing Group (PMG) and state pharmacy associations.

Al Falkenhainer's commitment to pharmacy over a century ago is alive today. Pharmacists Mutual is committed to maintaining his legacy and his simple yet powerful idea – be the best at serving our members and all else will follow.
