Bringing safety, transparency, availability, and quality to compounded medications.

Safety

Providing the right dosage of medication available in pre-filled syringes produced in a sterile, cGMP-compliant 503B facility gives doctors – and their patients – an added level of safety and confidence in the operating room.

Availability

Having the IV push medication you need available when you need it is, simply put, essential. That's why we've put systems in place to help support and even anticipate your compounded pharmaceutical needs.

Transparency

From the glass panes in our pharmaceutical facility to the COAs (certificate of analysis) we provide with every batch and detailed quarterly quality management reports we post online, STAQ is committed to transparency.

Quality

STAQ's goal from day one has been to help ensure the highest quality compounded medications for children and adults. Built brand new as a 503B, and focused on the most current FDA guidance, we're poised to do just that.
