EVERYWARE®

Company Background

Everyware is a leading payments, billing, and customer engagement company based in Austin, Texas. Everyware launched in 2015 with the mission to help businesses increase sales, mitigate merchant processing risk, and improve customer engagement through two-way text messaging. The company's competitive merchant processing services, flexible integration options, and HIPAA, PCI, and SOC 2 secure technology powers thousands of businesses in every industry throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Product Overview

The Everyware platform offers pharmacies simple, fast, and secure ways to take payments and text with patients. It saves pharmacies money by providing competitive processing and text messaging rates combined with an expansive suite of secure payments and messaging features for one low price. Everyware works either alongside existing systems or can be integrated with existing technology through simple and secure rest APIs. By implementing Pay By Text with two-way HIPAA secure messaging, pharmacy patients are able to pay for orders more conveniently while pharmacy staff can provide unrivaled customer service.

Testimonial

"Everyware has changed the way we do customer service! With Everyware, patients can just pay with the payment link and that frees up reps to focus on longer phone conversations with the patients who have bigger questions, more complex needs."
