Extensive third-party laboratory testing procedures verify the concentration of the product as well as the absence of any chemicals, herbicides, and pesticides. Certificates of Analysis are available on every lot of Encore Life products.

Why Encore Life?

Encore Life is the only practitioner exclusive, pharmacist-formulated CBD company in the United States. We value the practitioner/patient relationship and will not sacrifice the importance of this relationship by offering our products through any other sales channel, under our brand or a separate B2C brand.

We offer the highest-quality professional grade products available on the market. We have aligned ourselves with the best growers and extractors in the industry, and each partner has undergone our extensive vendor qualification process.

No other CBD company can compare to the breadth of our product offering. Our innovative product line is formulated by a compounding pharmacist utilizing only the purest professional grade ingredients and pharmaceutical bases.

We provide COAs on every lot. Product labels accurately reflect CBD content in the entire bottle and in each serving. We don't inflate this number with oil content or additional cannabinoids present, so your patient knows exactly how much CBD is in each dose.
