Company Background

Jeff Hedges is the president of R.J. Hedges & Associates, and is “The HIPAA Guy™”, a recognized leader and advocate for community pharmacies and medical supply companies. Retiring from the U.S. Air Force in 2002, he started R.J. Hedges & Associates to assist independent pharmacies with their federal compliance requirements. Jeff’s experience in taking complex regulations and applying them to real world applications, in an easy to follow format, is ideal for helping pharmacies and medical supply companies. The pharmacy environment has a vast set of changing healthcare regulations which Jeff translates into an understandable policy and procedure manual. All R.J. Hedges & Associates programs are customized to the individual pharmacy and are supported by a Computer Based Training Module which provides a personalized learning environment.
